Facing journeys. The 2017 American Indian Quadfold Final Draft text is not visible in the image.

2017 American Indian Quadfold Final Draft

Indiana, and Georgia empirically anchor his claims. Detailed interpretations of sites of funerary rituals and practices. Detailed interpretations in social and cultural history. An example, analyzing one 15th-century archaeological site in a scientific way, controlled at different times. The book provides a detailed analysis of funerary sites and practices in the American Southwest, offering insights into the social and cultural contexts of these important events.

Chyfa Warrior

Teaching Indigenous Students

Valentine T. McCurdy

Teaching Indigenous Students: Approaches to University Classroom Teaching. This book offers innovative strategies and resources for educators working with Indigenous students. It emphasizes the importance of cultural responsiveness and the need for educators to understand and connect with Indigenous cultures.

The Art of George Morrison

By W. Jackson Rushing III

The Art of George Morrison: Ceremonial Sphere, History, Memory, and Identity. This book explores the life and work of George Morrison, a renowned Native American artist, and examines his contributions to the Native art movement and the role of art in the Indian experience.

Land Too Good for Indians

By R. Alonzo Church

An important book in the study of Native American history, this book explores the history of the AFS, a tribally owned school in the American Southwest. It traces the history of the school and its role in the education of Native American students.

Serving the Nation

By Diane Meyers Bahr

Serving the Nation: Faculty Labor, Race, and College Enrollment. This book examines the role of faculty labor in shaping college enrollment trends, focusing on the experiences of Black faculty members.

Davy Crockett. William Heath's thoroughly researched biography of Davy Crockett, a legendary American frontiersman, provides a detailed account of Crockett's life, from his early years in Tennessee to his role in the Texas Revolution and his eventual death at the Battle of the Alamo.

Viewing the Ancestors

By Robert McPherson

Viewing the Ancestors: A Bilingual Anthology of Perceptions of the Anaasází, Sr., and William J. C’Hair. This bilingual anthology explores the perceptions of the ancient Puebloan culture, providing insights into the beliefs and practices of the ancestors.

Gathering the Potawatomi Nation

By Mark E. Miller

Gathering the Potawatomi Nation: Claiming Tribal Identity. This book presents a detailed analysis of the Potawatomi Nation's efforts to reclaim and revitalize its cultural traditions and sovereign identity.

Land Too Good for Indians

By R. Alonzo Church

Land Too Good for Indians: The History of Indian Removal after the Treaty of 1851. This book offers a critical examination of the Indian Removal Act of 1830 and its impact on Native American communities, providing insights into the legacy of this legislation.

Tradition, Community, and Red Power

By W. Jackson Rushing III

Tradition, Community, and Red Power. This book explores the role of tradition and community in shaping Native American identity and resistance, offering a critical perspective on the challenges faced by indigenous communities.

Order by phone: 800-545-2400 or 405-325-2000
Order by fax: 800-753-0475 or 405-232-9395

universityofoklahomapress.com

The University of Oklahoma is an equal opportunity institution.

Order by phone: 800-545-2400 or 405-325-2000
Order by fax: 800-753-0475 or 405-232-9395

universityofoklahomapress.com