Harpwong

By Hilla Ariel

A love story replete with history and folktales, this book traces what happened to the friends and neighbors Steinbeck’s Joads left behind. Harpwong reveals the strength and resilience of a people who, in the face of unending despair, maintain their faith in the land.

Some of Tim’s Stories

By S.E. Hinton

A teenager when she first gained fame, now a seasoned writer, S. E. Hinton takes her trademark themes to a new level in stories of Tim’s Stone-fourteen original stories depicting adults trapped in lives of missed connections and opportunities.

Three Plays

The Indelible Boys, Children of the Sun, and The Mirror in Two Windows

By N. Scott Momaday

Reminiscence of Montada’s classic writing, these plays are moving stories that will continue to engage audiences and readers—works of a mature craftsman that preserve the mythic and cultural traditions of a unique tribal community in the face of an increasingly homogeneous society.

A Working Man’s Apocalypse

Short Stories

By William Loxas

In these unforgettable stories, William Loxas depicts the struggles of everyday people facing far from ordinary situations. A work of cutting-edge fiction, his masterful storytelling will leave readers breathless.

Voices from the Heartland

Edited by Carolyn Anne Taylor, Emily Old-Driver, Carolie Burrage, and Sally Emma-Mene-Footehston

Featuring fifty essays from Oklahoma women, this book presents the defining moments in women’s lives and represents all walks of life. This book speaks to readers all across America and demonstrates that women in Oklahoma represent the heart of all.

Three Plays

The Indelible Boys, Children of the Sun, and The Mirror in Two Windows

By N. Scott Momaday

Reminiscence of Montada’s classic writing, these plays are moving stories that will continue to engage audiences and readers—works of a mature craftsman that preserve the mythic and cultural traditions of a unique tribal community in the face of an increasingly homogeneous society.

After Eden

A Novel

By Valerie Miller

In a story populated by Pomo Indians, Euro-American ranchers and writers, and Mexican-American migrant laborers, Valerie Miller deftly juxtaposes differing cultural views of wilderness, trespassing, and home. Her dramatic novel is contemporary, while reflecting on two centuries of change in a seemingly Edenic place.

The Singing Bird

A Cherokee Novel

By John Milton Oskison

Edited by Timothy B. Powell and Melinda Smith Mullikin

Valerie Miner deftly juxtaposes differing cultural views of wilderness, trespassing, and home. Her dramatic novel is contemporary, while reflecting on two centuries of change in a seemingly Edenic place.

A Letter to My Father

Growing up Filipina and American

By Helen Madamba Mossman

Born to a Filipino father and an American mother, Helen Madamba Mossman experienced identity confusion in growing up in the Philippines and in the United States. When her family relocated to northwestern Oklahoma, she faced new struggles. In this poignant memoir, the author describes how she learned to reconcile her past and present identities.

Mack to the Rescue

By Jim Lehrer

Best known as the anchor of the NewsHour on PBS, Jim Lehrer is also an author of fiction. Like his other satirical novels featuring “One-Eyed Mack,” the book features members of the Oklahoma legislature. When the governor calls for privatizing state government, Mack decides to support his re-election bid, but a medical mishap prevents him from running. Embroiled in a medical malpractice suit, he backs out of the race and throws his support behind a flaky politician friend. Mack finally has no choice but to come to the rescue when the campaign takes a particularly ugly turn. This is political satire at its best.
American Indian

Living Sideways
Thickoress in American Indian Oral Traditions
By Franciso Ballinger
Living Sideways, Francisco Ballinger provides the first full-length study of the oral roles and dimensions of North American Indian tricksters. While honoring their diversity and complexity, he challenges stereotypical Euro-American treatmenst of tricksters. $16.00 PAPER (Q) 978-0-8061-3774-6 228 PAGES

Bone Game
A Novel
By Louis Owens
In this fast-paced, highly original novel, a mixed-blood Indian professor in Santa Cruz, California, is haunted by dreams dating back to 8000 B.C. and a California at a time when dead young women are washing ashore. Only with the help of Cal’s Chocante relatives and their traditional knowledge can this murder mystery be solved. $16.00 PAPER (Q) 978-0-8061-3263-3 236 PAGES

Field of Honor
A Novel
By D. L. Bechfield
In D. L. Bechfield’s field of honor, a second underground civilization of Choctaws has evolved into a high-tech culture. Here, Chocante traditions are safe from the cultural genocide being waged in the world above. But crisis is about to strike, threatening the community’s continued existence. $18.00 PAPER (Q) 978-0-8061-3490-2 336 PAGES

The Sons of the Wind
The Sacred Stories of the Lakota
By D. M. Doubling
The Sons of the Wind is completely engaging throughout, and is an important reflection of these wonderful celebrations of the spirit in stories which inform the American Indian oral tradition. “—N. Scott Momaday, Pulitzer Prize-winning author of House Made of Dawn $18.00 PAPER (Q) 978-0-8061-3262-6 328 PAGES

The Vengeful Wife and Other Blackfoot Stories
By Hugh A. Dempsey
The Vengeful Wife and Other Blackfoot Stories presents tales of the Blackfoot tribe of southern Alberta. These stories are about war, hunting, ceremonies, sexuality, the supernatural, and captivity, and reflect Indian viewpoints and beliefs. $18.00 PAPER (Q) 978-0-8061-3493-3 304 PAGES

The Mythology of Native North America
By David Leeming and Jaku Page
Most North Americans’ understanding of mythology is by way of translations of classic texts, and surprisingly few of us are familiar with Coyote, Spider Woman, Water Spirit, Fall- ing Star Woman, or the epic of the Beating-Heart—to name just a few of the stories retold in this collection of significant myths of North America. $18.00 PAPER (Q) 978-0-8061-3773-9 216 PAGES

American West

Circle of Women
An Anthology of Contemporary Western Women Writers
By Kim Barnes and Mary Clearman Blew
This striking array of stories, essays, and poems reflects women’s experiences in the American West. Through their tales, these writers share the struggles against the overwhelming isolation brought on by gender and the physical environment. $18.00 PAPER (Q) 978-0-8061-3713-4 304 PAGES

Michener
A Writer’s Journey
By Stephen J. May
In this first full-length biography of M- chener, Stephen J. May tells how an aspiring writer rose from obscurity to become an internationally known bestselling novelist. $18.00 PAPER (Q) 978-0-8061-3690-0 304 PAGES

Following the Harvest
A Novel
By Rynd Harris
Following the Harvest tells the story of sixteen- year-old Will Haley and his adventures as he tries from Oklahoma to South Dakota in the summer of 1845 as a member of a wheat-harvesting crew. $18.00 PAPER (Q) 978-0-8061-3714-1 272 PAGES

Light and Variable
A Year of Celebrations, Holidays, Recipes, and Daily Dickinson
By Caroleen Conolly
A celebration of the seasons, Light and Variable, the reader is invited to join celebrated Oklahoma poet and commentator Connie Conolly on a guided tour through the calendar year. $18.00 PAPER (Q) 978-0-8061-3691-7 272 PAGES

American West

American West: An Anthology
By David Leeming and Jake Page
A series of related stories, American West presents tales of the Blackfoot tribe of southern Alberta. These stories are about war, hunting, ceremonies, sexuality, the supernatural, and captivity, and reflect Indian viewpoints and beliefs. $18.00 PAPER (Q) 978-0-8061-3492-6 304 PAGES

Chicano/Chicana

Crossing Vines
A Novel
By Riggoberto González
In Crossing Vines, González presents tales of the migrant grape pickers. The story centers on the back-breaking work they suctept to their corrupt bosses. The uncompromising tale calls names and faces to the anonymous laborers who are the target of the vengeful Wife and Crosses her sewing place. $18.00 PAPER (Q) 978-0-8061-3741-8 280 PAGES

Best Sellers

Mountain Windsong
A Memoir of the Trail of Tears
By Robert J. Conley
Mountain Windsong is the reader on a jour- ney that allows one to feel the effects of the Trail of Tears on individual people and their families while weaving in historical information about all the external forces which forever changed the Cherokee Nation. “—Wilma P. Muehler, former principal chief of the Cherokee Nation $16.00 PAPER 978-0-8061-3788-9 288 PAGES

All But the Waltz
A Memoir of Five Generations in the Life of a Montana Family
By Mary Clearman Blew
All But the Waltz gives us a glimpse into the lives of Blew’s mother’s most elusive bootleggers and career criminal, “Big Sky” Mike Blew, who was also one of Oklahoma’s most elusive bootleggers and career criminals from the 1960s to the 1980s, and a high-ranking member of the Dalla Mafia. Pete Pond tallies the inside story of his notorious father and of how he earned his reputation as a Robin Hood “King of the Bootleggers.” $16.00 PAPER (Q) 978-0-8061-3738-4 216 PAGES

If You Want to Read a Novel
Order before December 31, 2007, and receive a 30% discount!
PHONE ORDERS: 1-800-637-7377 or 405-353-2260 FAX ORDERS: 1-800-733-0476 or 405-354-5798 TO ORDER ONLINE GO TO GUPRESS.COM

C H I C A N O / C H I C A NA

From the Glittering World
A Memoir of Five Generations in the Life of a Montana Family
By Mary Clearman Blew
From the Glittering World conveys how a contemporary Nacirema writer experiences this world as a mingling of the profound and the ordinary, of the sometimes jarring, sometimes alluringly new. $16.00 PAPER 978-0-8061-3732-5 272 PAGES

The Man Who Could Fly and Other Stories
By Rudolfo Anaya
With This Man Could Fly and Other Stories, the reader enters deeply the world of Rudolfo Anaya, a world of magic, mystery, harsh realities, and redemption. $16.00 PAPER 978-0-8061-3724-2 272 PAGES

Whose Names Are Unknown
A Novel
By Sandra Babb
This new novel tells an intimate story of Oklahoma Panhandle farmers in the 1870s who fought and died during dust storms. $16.00 PAPER 978-0-8061-3772-1 272 PAGES

All Rights Reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, transmitted, or stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means—electronic, mechanical, photocopy, recording, or otherwise—without the prior written permission of the publisher. Copyright © 2007 by the University of Oklahoma Press. All rights reserved. Printed in the United States of America.